Introduction to Collections and Research in Natural History Museums

ZOO6927 Section 125D
ENY6905 Section 15HE
ANG6930 Section 2F11

Instructors: Dr. David C. Blackburn, Dr. Kitty F. Emery, Dr. Akito Y. Kawahara

General Class Information

Course Summary:
This course will introduce graduate students to research and collections in natural history museums, with a focus on the Florida Museum of Natural History. Each week we will either discuss important topics in the operations and management of scientific collections or we will tour different collections in the Florida Museum of Natural History.

Course Credit: 1 Credit hour

Course Schedule:
Across 14 weeks of the semester, we will have six in-class meetings dedicated to specific topics including (1) data management, (2) genetic resources, (3) ethics and permitting, and (4) imaging. In addition, for eight of the class meetings we will tour collections and divisions within the Florida Museum of Natural History, including (1) environmental archaeology, (2) ethnography, (3) ichthyology, (4) mammalogy, (5) the Herbarium, (6) Lepidoptera, (7) vertebrate paleontology, and (8) Exhibits & Education.

Course Meetings:
The course will meet once each week, either in room 222 of Carr Hall or in the scientific collections of Dickinson Hall or McGuire Hall. Details about the dates of specific collections tours and in-class meetings, including where to meet for each class and names of guest speakers, are located below in “Course Details.”

Thursday, Period 7 (1:55 – 2:45 pm)

Online Course Evaluation Process
Student assessment of instruction is an important part of efforts to improve teaching and learning. At the end of the semester, students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course using a standard set of university and college criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at https://evaluations.ufl.edu. Evaluations are typically open for students to complete during the last two or three weeks of the semester; students will be notified of the specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results.

Academic Honesty
As a student at the University of Florida, you have committed yourself to uphold the Honor Code, which includes the following pledge: “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.” You are expected to exhibit behavior consistent with this commitment to the UF academic community, and on all work submitted for credit at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.”

It is assumed that you will complete all work independently in each course unless the instructor provides explicit permission for you to collaborate on course tasks (e.g. assignments, papers, quizzes, exams). Furthermore, as part of your obligation to uphold the Honor Code, you should report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. It is your individual responsibility to know and comply with all university policies and procedures regarding academic integrity and the Student Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code at the University of Florida will not be tolerated. Violations will be reported to the Dean of Students Office for consideration of disciplinary action. For more information regarding the Student Honor Code, please see:
https://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honor-code/
Software Use
All faculty, staff and students of the university are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against university policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate.

Campus Helping Resources
Students experiencing crises or personal problems that interfere with their general wellbeing are encouraged to utilize the university’s counseling resources. The Counseling & Wellness Center provides confidential counseling services at no cost for currently enrolled students. Resources are available on campus for students having personal problems or lacking clear career or academic goals, which interfere with their academic performance.

Services for Students with Disabilities
The Disability Resource Center coordinates the needed accommodations of students with disabilities. This includes registering disabilities, recommending academic accommodations within the classroom, accessing special adaptive computer equipment, providing interpretation services and mediating faculty-student disability related issues. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation.

Student Complaints
Each online distance learning program has a process for, and will make every attempt to resolve, student complaints within its academic and administrative departments at the program level. See http://www.distance.ufl.edu/student-complaint-process for more details.

Sexual Harassment
It is the policy of The University of Florida to provide an educational and working environment for its students, faculty, and staff that is free from sex discrimination and sexual harassment. In accordance with federal and state law, the University prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex, including sexual harassment. Sex discrimination and sexual harassment will not be tolerated, and individuals who engage in such conduct will be subject to disciplinary action. The University encourages students, faculty, staff, and visitors to promptly report sex discrimination and sexual harassment. If you believe you have been subjected to sex discrimination or sexual harassment please report the incident to me or any University official, administrator, or supervisor. The Office of Human Resource Services investigates all complaints. Incidents should be reported as soon as possible after the time of their occurrence (larry-ellis@ufl.edu).
