

ZOO 4403C (Marine Biology) – 4 Credits

Summer B, 2016

Dr. Joan C. Herrera, Biology

Department of Biological Sciences, Gainesville FL

Seahorse Key Marine Lab, Cedar Key FL

Summer course in Marine Biology, includes intensive field component with independent projects.

Learn community ecology with hands-on experience in coastal ecosystems of Florida, including:

- Mud Flats
- Mangroves
- Sandy Beach
- Oyster Reefs
- Salt Marshes
- Seagrass Beds
- Rocky Intertidal and more!

Open to undergraduates and graduate students of all majors

Application Deadline April 20, 2015

Course ZOO 4403

Lab fee: $625-825 (Includes lodging at Seahorse Key, transportation, most equipment and supplies. Fee to be finalized before the semester begins based on applications for boat-time).

Note: fishing license, text, food and tuition costs also apply

For an application or more information contact:

Course Instructor: Dr. Joan Herrera, Department of Biological Sciences.

Email: encope@ufl.edu

Check out last summer's class on Youtube: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zc7oe7qUY4A>