

BSC 1920 – FYI: BIOLOGY AT UF (SECTION 016F)

Contact information Dr. Karen A. Bjorndal
Carr Hall, room 320
352-392-1126
bjorndal@ufl.edu

Class schedule Tuesday, Period 6 (12:50 – 1:40), 222 Carr Hall

Course website <http://biology.ufl.edu/files/intro1.pdf>

Office hours Tuesdays 7th period (1:55 – 2:45) and Thursdays 5th period (11:45 – 12:35) in 320 Carr Hall, or by appointment
If you are experiencing any problems with the class, please see me as soon as possible – before or after class, during office hours, or by appointment.

Objectives

This course provides an introduction to the field of biology and UF resources specific to that discipline. It is expected that this course will be taken the first semester after declaring a biology, botany, or zoology major. To encourage interactions between you and the faculty, the class size is small.

Course syllabus

Course schedule

Course Assignments and Basis of Grades

Readings (click on title to access pdf from course website)

National Research Council. 2009. On being a scientist: a guide to responsible conduct in research. The National Academies Press, Washington DC.

Van Noorden, Richard. 2011. A death in the lab. Nature 472:270-271.